What is Teachable?

Teachable is an online course platform that connects instructors with students. The website allows individuals and businesses to create online courses and products with lectures, videos, and quizzes.

Teachable is the perfect online course builder to get it done if you're thinking about selling an online course. Not only is it a complete solution to your course needs, but it provides everything you need to set it up. It's very user-friendly and teaches students in a very accessible way. Course creators don't need to worry about getting paid as Teachable takes care of all business-related details for you.

To help you get started, teachable provides:
- A content management system
- A sales page that includes upselling and credit card forms
- Payment Gateways
- Blog Pages
- Messaging Systems

Instead of having to purchase separate systems for each of these specific needs, Teachable does it all for you, which leaves you with more time to focus on your course. Set yourself up for success by focusing on creating fantastic content instead of worrying about all of the little details since Teachable has it all handled for you.

In addition to all of the great solutions Teachable provides they also offer great benefits for users. This includes:
- Unlimited courses & students
- Fully responsive to web and mobile
- User-friendly website builder
- Built-in marketing tools including conversion-optimized landing pages, an affiliate program, and marketing integrations.
- Quizzes, forums, and drop content to improve your students' learning experience.

Teachable is great about allowing the teacher to keep on track of their student's progress. The website makes it easy to check enrollment, progress, and quiz scores easy. In addition, Teachable allows teachers to enable comments under lectures to allow more interaction with students. Teachers will get an alert when there is a new comment and can promptly respond

This website also allows instructors to manually send emails to students. This is helpful if you create a follow-up course and want to communicate to students or have a new helpful tool you want to share.

You can't go wrong if you choose Teachable as the website to set up your online course platform. More than 100,000 creators have sold over $1 billion in courses and coaching on Teachable with great success.

How much does Teachable cost?

Teachable ranges from $0-$299 a month. All plans allow for unlimited products and students, but you do receive more benefits the more you pay per month. For example, at the $119 and $299/month option, you'll have access to group coaching calls and no transaction fees

Is Teachable Secure?

Teachable has a dedicated fraud team to make sure your business is secure. The system is monitored 24/7 so outages don't stop your business in its tracks. Your students will also have a 2048-bit SSL certificate that keeps your students' information secure when they log in and purchase their course. In addition, Teachable only works with payment providers that are PCL level-1 compliant, which makes sure that your students' data is secure.
